A Letter from Father Sheldon

My dear parishioners,

It is summer. Traffic in our area increases. Many of us will be headed for the shore and other water parks. Many others may just find it enjoyable also to just watch from the beach different kinds of boats in the water.

Let me invite you now to imagine the scene of Jesus and the apostles on a boat in the sea of Galilee. They were sailing when suddenly there was a squall. The lake is known for this kind of turbulence since it the lowest lying body of water. Jesus asked the apostles to cross the lake "to the other side". Many of the apostles were fishermen. They were all scared. Jesus, the son of a carpenter, seemed unconcerned, napping. After woken up by the panicked seafarers, Jesus calmed the sea. He is still the master of sea and wind. He is still the master of our journeys in life. He has the power to calm our "storms".

We encounter different kinds of fear in our lives. Sometimes we rely so much in our own strength and mastery in our field, yet it may happen they are not enough. The forces of nature and other tragedies are beyond our powers. Be not afraid. Jesus is with you. He may just be silent but he is with us. Wake him with our prayers. He will calm all the storms as we continue to cross "to the other side". It is He who invited us. He will never abandon us.

This weekend we honor all the fathers. They are our forever heroes. Through storms in life they showed to be the strength of our homes and families. Like Jesus they never abandoned us.

Pray to St Joseph. He is the model and Patron Saint of fathers.

Stay safe wherever you travel. God bless you!

Father Sheldon

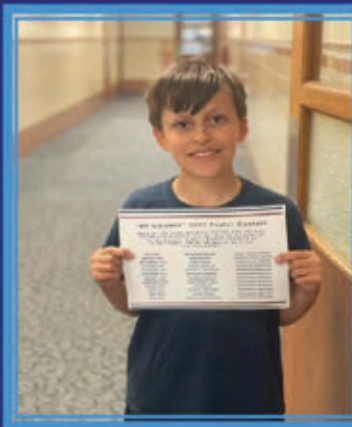

Saint Jerome School

Congratulations!

Luke Farina, (Gr. 4) received third place honors in the annual Monmouth County contest. Over 200 fourth grade students in Monmouth County participated in the contest to create posters depicting unique aspects of Monmouth County and how they relate to County Government. "A project like this helps students learn more about the great county we are all so fortunate to call home," said Sheriff Golden. "I commend all of these fourth grade participants as they continue to impress us with their knowledge of Monmouth County and tremendous ability to use their artistic talents to create eye-catching posters."

Father's Day

Lord, thank you for...

- ♦ fathers who strive to balance the demands of work, marriage, and children aware of both joy and sacrifice.
- ♦ men who have no children, but cherish the next generation as if they were their own.
- ♦ men who have "fathered" us in their role as mentors and guides.
- ♦ those men who are about to become fathers; may they openly delight in their children.
- ♦ fathers who have died, but live on in our memory and whose love continues to nurture us.

Here's One Positive Encouragement

Written by a fellow parishioner

Now that I am older, from time to time I look back on my life and take an inventory of myself. What were my accomplishments and my failures, what were my HOPES and my realities, what did I think I would be doing in life and what am I finally doing? Have you ever taken the same inventory? What did you learn if you did? What did I learn? I learned that whether it was an accomplishment or failure, a HOPE or a reality, what I expected to do or what I have done. They were really learning experiences for my soul to practice my faith by showing love and kindness to all those I have had an interaction with. I HOPE that you realize the most important time in your life is the present moment that you are in, because you do not know what the next moment will bring. If you are truly giving of yourself the most important person in your life is the one with you at that moment. The most important pursuit before you at that moment is to help that person to be happy by always showing love and kindness to the person you are with. Being a Catholic and looking back at Christ's life, it seemed to me he was always putting others first because he loved mankind. The many times I have reflected on my life, my best memories were those of helping others and bringing smiles and happiness to them. Take time to reflect on your life, remember those happy times you had and say a prayer for those who loved you. Today being Father's Day say a special prayer for the men in your life who brought a smile to your face and a love to your heart, your father, uncle, brother, cousin or friend. Wish and pray a happy Father's Day to them all.
